

Flourish Even Now

FLOURISH

EVEN NOW

In the Midst of a Pandemic

MONICA THEOPHILUS

Flourish Even Now

Flourish: an instance of suddenly performing or developing in an impressively successful way (Oxford dictionary).

Bloom or blossom; to break forth; to break out; to spring forth
(Hebrew definition).

You can Flourish Even Now! Do you believe that?

In March, when the Covid-19 pandemic began spreading and people became more aware of the sudden cases all over the world, a wave of worry swept over many of us and even as children of God, there was still a moment when each of us wondered where do we go from here. As I pondered on how I would pay bills, carry the 2020 vision the Lord gave me and keep the faith, I heard the Lord say, "Flourish." I wondered how I could flourish in the midst of a pandemic, what steps must I take to get there and how could I really achieve it despite the mountains in front of me. He continued to repeat it so much that I quickly tapped into the promise of FLOURISH. Then He gave me a prophecy, "I am making room for the righteous to flourish!" I was nervous to declare the prophecy as I stood on the pulpit on a Wednesday night service, but the moment I prophesied, I truly began to flourish. God started to give me ideas, content and new goals. He opened the door for business grants and scholarships. Then, I began to notice that the Lord was not only doing this SUDDENLY in my life, but also in the lives of His people. His people are those who remain in Him, believe His word, promises, obey His commands, and are a blessing to others. We have an advantage when we serve the true and living God and I am a living testimony. My boast is always in the Lord. So, I invite you to flourish even now during a pandemic outbreak and economic crisis. The same God who made a way in the wilderness for the Israelites and provided for the widow who wanted to eat her last meal and die, is the same God who will do it for you. I believe in God for the miracle of flourish in your life, but you must believe and walk in it for the outpouring of the manifestations to take place. I created these declarations to help you stand firm on the promises of flourish. I pray in the name of Jesus, that as you read these declarations and believe with your whole heart that Jesus Christ is our Lord and savior, He will intercede on your behalf and He will make a way in the last few months of 2020 for you to FLOURISH!!!.

Flourish Even Now

However, as it is written: "What no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, and what no human mind has conceived" -- the things God has prepared for those who love him--

1 Corinthians 2:9 (NIV).

Note: You will be tested and tried, but the key is to remain in the Father.

“In His days, the righteous shall flourish, and abundance of peace, until the moon is no more (Psalm 72:6-7).

Flourish Even Now

THE NEXT STEPS...

The next step is for you to move according to the will of God. Spend time in His presence and listen closely as He speaks. He will share secrets on how you will flourish. Be very mindful of who you reveal these revelations to. The Lord may say allow your fruits to speak for themselves as He did with me, but whatever He says just obey. Now... Go flourish unapologetically in Jesus name. Love you!!!
